Events

Thursday, January 14

Taste of Sandpoint • 5 p.m.-8 p.m. at Sandpoint Events Center, 515 Pine St. More than a dozen of Sandpoint's terrific restaurants offer up tasty samples of their best specialties at bite-sized prices.
Shop Around Sandpoint • All day, all around town—Get your "Passport to Prizes" stamped at just 5 participating shops around Sandpoint to win terrific prizes. See the info at left.
Dine Around Sandpoint • 5 p.m. till closing, all around town—A first-ever event, Dine Around Sandpoint starts at 15 restaurants around town featuring specials each evening, at special prices ranging from $15 to $35. Win a grand prize: Dinner out once a month for a full year DineAroundSandpoint.com. All day, every day of the Winter Carnival.

Friday, January 15

Winter Art Trek • 5-7 p.m. at downtown galleries and shops. Wander from shop to gallery around downtown Sandpoint to see original artworks by a plethora of fine local and regional artists. Nosh on complimentary hors d'oeuvres and drinks while you dissect the objects d'art, with the artists on hand to quiz and converse. Pick up self-guiding maps at locations all around town.
Ski and snowboard films • 5-8 p.m. at Taylor-Parker Chevrolet, 300 Cedar St.—Get an eyeful of derring-do on snow at these short action films, running on a loop so viewers can pop and out to catch a clip, or few, and warm up.
Bio-Luminesce Fire dancers • 6-7 p.m. at Pend d'Oreille Winery, 220 Cedar St.—Enjoy the hypnotic pyrotechnical dance routines of these "fire spinners" as they combine acrobatics, modern dance, yoga and more, all outlined in flames. It's a performance you won't forget.
Rail Jam and Bonfire • 6-9 p.m. at Jeff Jones Town Square, Main and Third—One of the biggest events of Winter Carnival, the rail jam is a freestyle contest where skiers and snowboarders put up their best acrobatic moves while sliding on handrails and other man-made features. Spinneybent Rails will construct a humongous rail. Riders compete for cash, and the spectators can keep warm and catch all the excitement by the roaring bonfire. (Jammers wanting to compete, pick up early registration forms at the new DSBA office, Oak and Third; or on-site the day of the event.)
Red Tape • 6 p.m. at Panida Theater. Original live theater inspired by larger-than-life works of artist Stephen Schultz. Tickets $12 at the door.

Saturday, January 16

Family Fun Day & Coffee Tasting • 9:30 a.m. -1:30 p.m., 524 Church St.—Savor hand-crafted coffees at Evans Brothers Coffee Roasting Studios, along with food, live music and indoor and outdoor activities for kids of all ages, including a snow ball toss, snow slides, snow man photos, art projects and more.
Winter Art Trek • 11 a.m.-5 p.m. at downtown galleries and shops
Shop Around Sandpoint • All day, all around town
Dine Around Sandpoint • 5 p.m. till closing, all around town
Schweitzer torchlight parade and fireworks • Schweitzer Mountain Resort—It's a Winter Carnival signature event where Schweitzer lights up the night with its annual torchlight parade and fireworks.
Red Tape • 6 p.m. at Panida Theater. Original live theater inspired by larger-than-life works of artist Stephen Schultz. Tickets $12 at the door

Sunday, January 17

K-9 Keg Pull • 10 a.m. -noon, Eichardt's Pub, 212 Cedar St. Great fun, and just possibly the most endearing event you'll ever attend. Dogs of all shapes and sizes sprint for glory as owners urge them on and spectators contribute a cacophony of cheers. The $5 entry fee goes straight to the local animal shelter. Bring your own dog to race (just get their early) or merely enjoy the spectacle; you'll love it.

Monday, January 18

Shop Around Sandpoint • Till 3 p.m., all around town
Dine Around Sandpoint • 5 p.m. till closing, all around town

WINTER CARNIVAL
 2010

January 14th — 18th

www.SandpointWinterCarnival.com

Sandpoint Winter Carnival still rockin' after 36 years!

Every January, in the dead of winter, Sandpoint, Idaho, cooks up a sure antidote to cabin fever. It's the Sandpoint Winter Carnival, pure fun celebrating the best of the snowy season ... indoors and out. This year's event is Thursday-Monday, January 14-18, 2010. We hope to see you here!

There's always lots going on... and on... and on...

Last year's 2009 Winter Carnival combined some of the favorite events from the Carnival's whopping 35-year history with some happenings that were brand-new. It was so much fun!

This year has all the great events from last year, an expanded Winter ArtTrek, plus some new things: Dine Around Sandpoint. Some of our best restaurants and wine bars are offering special menus and pricing for the entire month; plus, Shop Around Sandpoint, with discounts at several area retailers. Plus, win prizes just by shopping and dining at the participating retailers and restaurants, all while having some very cool winter fun!
